Through the course of theatre studies, Joshua got the opportunity to explore and develop his skills as an actor on a theoretical and practical setting, both on stage and behind the camera

Joshua is characterised as a compelling character on stage through taking on diverse roles which he successfully portrays in a natural and effortless demeanour. Moreover, considering his multi-cultural background, he also has a grasp for verbal and body language which allows him to empathise with different character roles effectively and operatively. This way, he has managed to produce several roles as part of his curriculum and career.
